Your story that you shared with the Idaho Association of Health Underwriters in Boise has brought many positive responses from our members. It forces us to think about our lives in a different way—both from a personal and professional standpoint. Change is a part of all of our lives, but we somehow think that terrible and traumatic events will never be a part of our lives. You show us how we can overcome small and enormous adversity.

I invited Gordon and his wife Jill to be the keynote speakers for Deloitte's National Sales Meeting and they knocked the cover off the ball! I've hired sports heroes, navy seals, and other terrific motivational speakers in the past but Gordon's story was the most powerful. The hundreds in attendance unanimously agreed that Gordon's inspirational story of loss, recovery, hope and faith was a real eye opener and provided all of us with a reminder of what's really important in life.
